Budget Pinch Facing West Texas State

Parents Talk Of Financing

Canyon Band Parents Wednesday evening discussed means for raising money to finance the Canyon High School Eagle Band to the International Band Festival in Vienna in July of next year.

First estimates on cost of the trip place that figure at near $80,000.

In a letter to the school board Tuesday Band Director J. W. King said a letter of intent has already been dispatched saying the band will attend the festival.

The board took no action at its Tuesday night meeting.

King noted that this decision may be reversed as late as October of this year.

King already has contacted two major airlines for bids on furnishing transportation.

Two area bands — Clovis and Pampa — have declined the invitation.

Dr. Warren Freeman, chairman of the festival committee in this country, wrote to King saying that less than two percent of high school bands in the United States are being considered by the festival committee.

"On behalf of the festival committee I am delighted to inform you and members of your band that your application has been approved and that you are now officially on the list of bands which will be taking part in the festival," Dr. Freeman wrote to the Canyon band director.

Dr. Freeman said his committee would have suggestions on how to finance the trip.

Lindseys Are Sentenced

Mark Layton Lindsey drew 20 years in federal prison and his wife 10 for the October robbery of Happy First State Bank.

The couple was sentenced in U.S. District Court in Abilene Wednesday morning.

They drew similar sentences for the robbery of Garmon First National Bank which was held up in mid-November. The sentences will run concurrently.

Lindsey told the court he (see LINDSEYS, page 11)

Clarence Thompson Services Set Today

"Clarence Thompson should be named the champion participant in community service," observed a long-time friend of the Canyon business and community leader who died Tuesday morning in Neblett Memorial Hospital.

Clarence Leonard Thompson was Mr. Community Service in Canyon and served as an influential guide to his church, city businesses and West Texas State University for some 60 years.

Mr. Thompson, 74 at the time of his death, was born in Running Water, September 24, 1896 and two years later his family became one of the original pioneer families in Canyon. Thomas Christian and Anna Louella Thompson moved their family to the Panhandle and purchased a hardware store in the small town, calling the business Thompson's.

Clarence Thompson grew up in his father's store, later

Congratulations were in order Tuesday night when results of the Lake Tanglewood election were announced. 124 residents voted to incorporate the lake area, and city officers were

"Make The Most Of It"

McClure Won't Talk

C. Boone McClure, director of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum, refused to discuss the $133,600 Museum appropriation with The Canyon News Wednesday.

He said he had been instructed not to do so. His statement came after he had been quoted extensively in The Amarillo Globe-Times.

Globe Publisher S. B. Whittenburg helped collect proxies in the fight for control of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society — a battle in which McClure himself figured prominently.

"I can't think of any reason such punitive measures would be taken against The Canyon News except for its efforts to tell the people of this area what is going on at the museum which we thought belonged to them," said News Publisher Troy Martin.

"We had had some conflict with the museum people over covering their executive board meetings but had thought this was resolved," the Canyon publisher went on.

Martin said The News never took sides in the conflict which erupted at the historical society meeting April 30 and has not taken sides since in the Grady Hazlewood-Evetts Haley dispute.

"We did contend that state money was being spent and defended our right to cover meetings where decisions were (see MCCLURE, page 11)

Ethiopian Relates Life In Home Land

BY TROY MARTIN

An Ethiopian civil servant employed in government radio and television broadcasting spent Monday afternoon touring the Lindsey ranch here and then was guest of honor at reception in the Eduard Schmutzer home Monday evening.

Lulseged Kunsu has been in this country since March 30 as a guest of the state department looking over U.S. broadcasting facilities.

Currently he is visiting KGNC in Amarillo.

Kunsu is 38 years old and lives in Addis Ababa, capital of Ethiopia.

Ethiopia is a Greek term meaning burnt countenance.

Kunsu is proud of his country having been educated there and then sent abroad for further learning. He studied in England and then took courses in communications in Syracuse, N.Y.

He relates that Addis Ababa is about 70 years old and means new flower. He is a Coptic Christian and is devoted to his emperor, Haile Selassie.

Kunsu said Ethiopia now has a constitutional monarchy with a bi-cameral legislative system. The upper house is appointed by the emperor while the lower house is elected by the people.

It is a matter of pride with him that Ethiopia is the only country south of the Sahara with its own alphabet which has 30 main characters and hundreds of others. Kunsu said there are 15,000 television sets in Ethiopia and a million plus radio sets. There is only one television station and it is located in the capital. He said both radio and television are controlled by the government and are used largely for educational purposes although some entertainment is broadcast.

He noted that sale of advertising helps to defray some of the expense of broadcasting.

Kunsu said his country is non-aligned although it is one of the founders of the Organization of African Unity. He stated that Ethiopia is against any aggression in the Middle East and believes that Israel should quit the territory occupied during the seven-day war.

Kunsu said his country of 24 million has universal education and there is even a literacy campaign among the older people. Young people who go to college are required to go to school four years and then work at their major (see ETHIOPIAN, page 11)

Solons Venting Ire With State Schools

BY TROY MARTIN

West Texas State University is faced with austerity as a result of an appropriations bill which fell $284,975 short of the budget approved by the board of regents last week.

"Since there apparently will be a balance in the tax funds it is difficult to understand why higher education was not properly funded," an educator here said Wednesday.

Virgil Henson, financial vice president, said every contingency fund will be exhausted just to pay the faculty and there will be no money at all for emergencies.

None of the faculty will be relieved of their posts but vacancies that occur will not be filled, he declared. Teachers were told last week not to expect raises.

Henson said this actually is asking the faculty to accept pay cuts because inflation has increased the cost of living.

The board of regents last Friday adopted a budget of $11,549,179 for 1971-72 with the understanding that revisions would be made if necessary after the appropriation.

Current budget is $10,638,390 which included a state appropriation of $5,517,048.

Henson said that in the budget he prepared he had estimated $1,135,750 in local income from fees and tuition while the legislature figured $1,217,290 from these sources.

"This amounted to a deduction of $81,540 from our appropriation," Henson asserted.

The financial vice president said the legislature seems to expect the institution to have more local income next school year because of a raise in tuition but said the opposite may result.

He explained that tuition is now $4 an hour across the board. It was $50 a semester for a student carrying a full load.

Now, although a 15-hour student will pay $10 more, a 12-hour student will actually pay $2 less. "We have a lot of 12-hour students," he asserted.

He said the school now has 350 out-of-state students paying $200 a semester but that when the tuition goes up to $600 there may be a sharp drop in the number of students from out of state.

"In all probability we will have little increase in local tuition income," Henson declared. "We think the amount of projected increase deducted is more than we will receive in tuition and fees."

Henson said he is not optimistic about much increase in enrollment next fall although a 5 percent increase has been projected.

Henson said that during the current year $135,000 were transferred from other funds into the teaching fund to pay teacher salaries.

"We won't be able to do that next year because the money just isn't available," he declared. Henson said appropriations for 1971-72 instructional salaries actually were cut by about $57,000 from the current budgeted figure. The line item for general institutional expense, where $175,000 usually is spent was cut from $130,000 in 1970-71 to $109,601.

The financial vice president said he does not think WTSU was singled out declaring that the cutback has been general.

He said there is plenty of tax funds available leaving him to believe the cutbacks resulted from unhappiness in the legislature over student and faculty disruptions in some state schools.

There is a feeling on the part of some of the leadership in the legislature that the faculties are not (see BUDGET, page 11)

Nits $149,975 In May

Building Permits Spiral

Canyon building permits continued an upward spiral in May topping $149,975, according to City Manager George Louder.

Louder said the 1971 figures were the highest for May since 1965 when West Texas State University constructed two buildings on campus for a total of $559,634.

May figures last year were only $31,683. The 1969 permits totalled $61,800 for May.

Construction during the past month included six residences, remodeling of a commercial building and the Lambda Chi social fraternity lodge, move-in of apartment units, and construction of several storage buildings.

In April building permits totalling $157,800 were issued by the city, which had been a 3 year high for that month.

A check through city records shows this year's May figures were the highest since the early 1960's, when construction in Canyon was at a peak.

In May 1963, Canyon recorded $199,955 in permits. The next year $70,700 worth of permits were issued, and in 1965 a monthly total of (see PERMITS, page 11)

Conner Park Gets Boost

Conner Park maintenance will get a boost this year with an additional $6,545 in the budget and a full-time maintenance man overseeing the park, according to City Manager George Louder.

The increase in the budget will be used for salaries, supplies, actual services and capital outlay, Louder said. Charlie Beety will be maintenance man for Conner Park, and he will have one assistant.

Louder blamed wind as the largest problem with park upkeep.

"People are not especially negligent with their trash, but the wind takes control of it. Most people are making a sincere effort in keeping it clean," Louder lamented.

Upkeep for the park has (see CONNER, page 11)

Debbie Hanks, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. James Hanks of 714 Taylor Lane, is stopped at a simulated intersection by Lt. Al Stewart of the Canyon Police Department at the bicycle inspection and licensing at Conner Park recently. The inspection was co-sponsored by the Police Department and Kiwanis Club.

Museum Bill Awaits Governor's Approval

A bill turning most of the responsibility for operation of Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum over to the West Texas State University board of regents awaited the signature of Governor Preston Smith amid criticism and praise at mid-week.

Senator Grady Hazlewood who backed the bill was quoted as saying it will give the legislature its first constitutional right to appropriate money for operation of the museum.

A statement signed by five former presidents of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society said the act was "designed to destroy the control of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum by its membership."

"This (state appropriations) has been unconstitutional (see MUSEUM, page 11)

CLARENCE THOMPSON

Canyon rancher Bob Lindsey shows off a prize bull to Lulseged Kunsu from Ethiopia. Kunsu has been here observing the broadcasting business as a guest of the state department.

by Troy Martin FROM THE CANYON RIM

I have talked in the past six months to nationals from three countries who condemn the U.S. for going into South Vietnam to defend the south from aggression from the north.

One was from India, one from Sweden and the latest from Ethiopia.

All three had two things in common. All three say the U.S. position in Vietnam is wrong and all three say they would expect this country to come immediately to their country's assistance if it is invaded by an aggressor.

I spent a part of Monday afternoon and evening with Lulseged Kunsu of Ethiopia. He is a charming, well-educated fellow who speaks fluent English.

I was amazed to learn that he knew all about My Lai where some 122 Vietnamese are alleged to have been slain by Lt. Calley but did not know about Hue.

At Hue the communists subjected civilians to merciless rocket fire killing 3,000 non-combatants. The victims were buried in a common grave.

He knew about Hitler and Mussolini and their atrocities but said he had never heard of the Katyn Massacre where the Russians slaughtered the flower of the Polish officer corps in 1939.

He also said he had not heard of the mass murder of more than a million Ukrainian Russians after World War II in a butchery over which Nikita Krushchev, later Soviet dictator, presided.

Whether by design or through ineptitude, the American story is not being told abroad.

When he discussed race relations in this country, Mr.

Kunsu's imagination summoned up pictures of police dogs and fire hoses.

Apparently he was unaware of Jim Thorpe, Will Rogers, Jackie Robinson, Jesse Owens, Thurgood Marshall, Senator Brooks and Mayor Stokes.

When visitors from abroad come to this country they usually are thrown in with people who are apologetic for America. The criticism and apologies go as far back as early settlers barking natives out of Manhattan by swapping them $24 worth of beads for it and the U.S. cavalry wrestling most of America from the Indians.

We admit that our race relations are far from perfect but minority races fare better here than in any land on the face of this earth.

Witness the Indians (from India) whose ancestors migrated from India to Africa during empire days. These people are now virtually people without a country after being tossed out or discriminated against by black majorities.

As for Ethiopia, it did not abolish slavery until 1935 — a little more than three decades ago.

Why should we apologize to Ethiopia for our shortcomings in race relations.

Chasing other folks out and occupying their land dates back to pre-historic times. The folks who inhabited the Land of Canaan before Moses and Joshua arrived on the scene didn't give up their country voluntarily.

I doubt that there is a nation on this planet that did not displace some people who preceded it.

I think it is safe to say that there are few Indians who would like to go back to teepees, buffalo meat and the ground for a bed. All of them I know, including some of my relatives, find civilization pretty comfortable.

From the road it looks like the legislature's decision not to provide money for raises for college faculty is punitive.

I think it was actually levelled at the University of Texas and I agree that some of the professors at the University of Texas are past due for some punishment. But let's not take it out on the professors who are doing their jobs.

I understand that Rep. Bill Headly, chairman of the appropriations committee, had some scathing criticism of university professors who draw fat salaries and do little or no teaching. Granted some schools may have professors who teach only three hours.

But how about West Texas State where the usual teaching load is twelve to fifteen hours.

The legislature has engaged in what amounts to company punishment which is both unfair and unrealistic.

I'd rather see a system under which the administration could fire those who can't cut the mustard and reward in the pay envelope those who can.

Although the legislature's ire is apparently aimed at UT, it will be smaller state schools like WTSU that will suffer. UT is rich and will go on with business as usual while WTSU has no outside sources of income and the faculty will just have to tighten its belt.

Items Found

At Junior High

Dave Corley, Canyon Junior High School principal, reported this week that several items have been left at the school, and students or parents are urged to come and pick them up.

Items found after school dismissed last week included several pair of prescription glasses, a wrist watch and various purses.

The school will be open 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday throughout the summer.

1971 Valedictory Address

BY BILL REYNOLDS

As I step up to speak tonight, I wonder just how many of you are going to listen to what I have to say. The older people here will probably ask "what can an 18-year-old kid say to me that will challenge me, or that I haven't already learned. What can he have learned in 18 irresponsible years to teach me — a mature adult who knows world situations, the ropes of business, and the hardships of a lifetime?" My classmates on stage are undoubtedly thinking "these robes are hot, so cut the speech so we can get our diploma and go to the all-night party!" This, I admit, is not far from my own mind right now either. But what I have to say is important to all of us.

During this year, I became more involved than I ever have in my entire life — the activities I was a part of brought me in close association with a lot of people. I met many new people, got a chance to work with people I had wanted to meet, and learned more about the people I knew. Because of these contacts with people, this year has shown me some of the most fantastic experiences I could ever hope to have. Yet the whole year was a series of ups and downs for many of my friends and myself. Not that I haven't ever been up or down before, but I mean extremes. Going from a period of elation which leaves you with all your nerves and muscles so tight, you feel like you'll pull yourself apart if you don't let it out, to the state of empty and utter frustration that just lies in the pit of your stomach and grows on you. Many people have felt this way during the year, I know, because besides feeling it myself, I saw it in others' faces too. More than once. That's why the year has been mixed emotions — all the way through. You work and plan until you're at your mind's end as to what else to perfect. You psyche your self up mentally and physically to do your absolute best; when it happens, you give your entire soul into it, which leaves you drained of all energy, only to have it trampled upon and degraded. The thing you've lived, worked and breathed for is finished, stopped, ended with such complete finality that it seems impossible and unfair.

However, experiences such as these have illustrated something to me, something I feel is the only way to endure these extreme periods. This is complete and total dependence and trust in God. I don't mean just sitting back and saying "things will work out", I'm talking about consciously realizing the power and strength that's to be found from God. It's similar to trusting and depending on your best friend. You tell him your problems and share with him your joys and depressions. If there is anything he can do, you ask him for it. Here's the difference between God and a best friend — they both care, but God's concern is as limitless as Himself, there is nothing God cannot give and since He cares more than man can ever imagine, He will give unselfishly and more abundantly. This is the only way I have been able to endure the extreme periods of this year as well as the past ones. Ever since I began to completely let God take care of everything, my life has changed to being more full, not only with meaning and purpose, but with an increased understanding and a joy of living. All that has happened to me in the way of honors, opportunities, blessings of my family and whatever I attain in the future, I must say is only because of God and from no part of myself. I believe the only way to end war, pain and all that is wrong with society is to replace it with the concern of allowing God to take hold of our lives, because all our problems come from within us. All our pride and selfishness must be replaced with God. If you begin to depend on people, they will fail you. God is the only infallible person you can trust. One of my closest friends who gives me a lot of stamina told me that "Even if you let the wind blow you wherever it may, doesn't God also control the wind?"

Take the time and the thought to see God. All you need to do is toss off a little of that superficial pride and be willing to trust. You may not agree with what I've said tonight. All I know is that it has worked for me. If you'll think and use your mind, I believe you won't be able to find anything that equals life with God.

C-C Directors Meet Monday

Chamber of Commerce board of directors will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Canyon Community Center to discuss plans for summer activities, according to Roland Black, chamber manager.

Black said the board will review the Christmas decorating program and will set dates for the tourist promotion flags to be put up.

Canyon Celebration Days, July 23-24, will also be discussed, and a review of the recent trip to Dallas by board members to participate in the AAMA Trade show will be given.

Pool Attendance Estimates High

Approximately 400 persons were admitted to the city swimming pool on the opening day, said Glen Metcalf, city clerk.

The pool opened for the summer Monday and will be open from 1:30-7 p.m. daily. Admission fees are 35 cents for students and 50 cents for adults.

Season passes will sell for $12.50 for individuals and $40 for families.

George Ritter is pool manager. Lifeguards will be college students, Becky Price, Terry Donovan and Marilyn Bourland, all Water Safety Instructors.

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

The recent vote on the Amendments to the Texas Constitution seems to indicate that the silent majority may not be as sheep-like as vocal leaders might tend to think.

Whether the three amendments were defeated because of a taxpayer's revolt or because of the issues involved is debatable.

The current tax burden is so oppressive that many taxpayers will vote against any proposal — however worthwhile — if it must be financed by tax money.

Apparently, Texans are in no hurry to increase the powers of the legislature, or make it easier to change the Constitution.

The fact that many of the legislators seem to ignore the code of ethics they already have may have discouraged the voters from approving another one for them.

Probably, however, the rider attached to the proposed new code, allowing the legislators to raise their salaries, did not escape notice.

Raising the welfare ceiling was heartily approved by almost every newspaper, periodical, civic group, and leader in the state. Almost everyone appeared to be for it — but the majority voted against it.

Surely no one wants blind people, helpless old folks and little children to suffer. But apparently the majority of Texans do not feel that increasing welfare is the answer.

How did the indigents survive before the establishment of our welfare state?

From the dawn of history, civilized men have followed the admonition of the Bible that families look after their own. In free China, parents take care of young children, and children take care of old parents in a manner that puts most Christian nations to shame.

Children who have been abandoned by parents when they were little and helpless are understandably reluctant to take care of those negligent parents when they get old and helpless.

This nation grew great and powerful, however, the same way every great nation developed before it: by every man being responsible for his own actions.

The Law upon which the laws of all civilized nations are based commands children to honor their parents. And it does not say "provided they are honorable."

Paul's teaching in Timothy 5 is explicit that families should take care of their own. Only widows who had neither sons nor nephews were to be taken care of by the church.

Surely the God who made man knows what is best for his welfare. Would not the unfortunate who has no family be better off if he were taken care of by local, Godly people who knew and loved him?

There are countless advantages to families looking after their own. What family would support a woman while she produced a household of illegitimate children? And it is difficult to imagine the 2nd, 3rd, and 4th generations sitting around for handouts from the family.

The average American could provide handsomely for the honest dependents in his family with the taxes he pays for welfare.

But how do we get off the welfare wagon?

Every able-bodied man should assume his God-given responsibility for his own family. Then he should go to the polls and vote against the welfare state and against the candidates who support it.

That is talking where it counts.

City Gets 1.23 Inches Of Moisture

Canyon recorded 1.23 inches of rain during five days last week bringing the yearly total to 3.33, according to Dr. Kenneth Brehob of the geography department at West Texas State University. Brehob said the yearly total compares to 5.19 inches average over a 20-year period for the same period of time.

Randall County Agent John Brazzil said the rain was good, but was not enough to allow dryland farmers to plant grain sorghum.

"Moisture helped, but it did not solve our problems," Brazzil pointed out.

He explained that much more rain is needed in order for the dryland fields to be ready for planting.

Canyon fire officials were on duty Saturday night as tornado watches were sounded throughout the Panhandle. Assistant Fire Chief Joe Rice said no tornadoes were sighted in Canyon, but several firemen were on duty ready to sound necessary alarms if the need arose.

will have an exhibit hanging in the Cinema Theater in Western Plaza until June 17.

Ruth Maynard, vice president, presided at the meeting.

Club members decided to accept an invitation from Methodist Hospital in Lubbock to hang an art exhibit from Sept. 8-Nov. 3.

Mrs. Ernestine Danner will have an exhibit at Security Federal Saving and Loan at Wolfen and Dunivan Circle from June 18-July 2.

New craft classes will begin June 17 from 9:30-noon at Zelma's Arts and Crafts. Advance classes for those who have already started in paper tole will be offered.

Brownie and Junior Girl Scouts participating in the annual day camp this week end each day with the lowering of the flag. Pictured in the honor guard are Katrina Raymer, Bonnie Barrett, Angie Landrum, Brenda Reynolds, Kelli Campbell and Sheila Hicks. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Raymer, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Landrum, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Winton Campbell of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny W. Hicks of Amarillo.

83 Girls Registered For Scout Camp

"International Friendship" is the theme of this year's Girl Scout day camp with 83 girls registered. The camp started Monday and will continue through Friday.

Eight adult leaders, five cadet scouts and three senior scouts are helping with the 8:30 a.m. programs for the second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth graders on land south of St. Ann's Rectory.

Mrs. B. J. Ormsby is in charge of the camp. The girls have been making puppets and mosaic tiles. Junior Girl Scouts, those from the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, are planning an overnight campout today.

The land, owned by Jack Taylor, Buddy Taylor and Hosea Foster, has been donated for use by the Girl Scouts for about five or six years, said Mrs. Ormsby.

Gene Howe News

BY PAULINE HEFLEY
A special congratulations to the Canyon High School graduates from the Gene Howe area: Jeanine Keith, Debbie Fowler, Mickey Ely, Lori Rudd, Sarah Taylor, Robert Bull, Cindy Cox, Patsy Bruce, Frances Maxwell, Rene Maples and Vonda Robinson. What a milestone in your life — now on to bigger and better things.

Real fun and games is being had at the Girl Scout Day Camp at Tierra Blanca Creek this week for some of our Girl Scouts.

Those having to know the secret passwords, watching for lizards, turtles, and snakes are Deana Harp, Kelli Campbell, Sheila Hicks, Carla Schmidt, Kaki Mulherin, DeAnna Henwood, Debra Drost, Leslie Lay, and Sandy Hagunest.

Mommies on the excursion are Mrs. Johnny "Phylis" Hicks and Mrs. Bill "Ernestine" Harp.

Dr. Everett and wife, Sharon, Howard, along with April, Stacy and Mary Mack motored down to Six Flags over the holiday.

The Dave Hycks recently returned from a trip to Hawaii.

The E. K. "Tiny" Johnston's tooted up to Ruidosa, New Mexico. He failed to elaborate on wins, losses, or draws.

Congratulations to the Gene Howe Lepricons — wow, they really laid it on the Avondale baseball team — the final score in the practice game was 44 to 13. That Herbert McGregor is really coaching these girls into a fine ball team, and he is very ably helped by Mrs. Stanley "Patsy" Baldridge, who keeps the records and Miss Beverly Keith, who helps coach the girls on base.

Welcome back home to Walter Burkart on Arden Road who spent a week in New Orleans, La. at a Naval Reserve Counseling School. Walter says that the U.S. Navy has really gone "mod" — now have beer machines in the barracks and go to chow in the evening in civilian clothes — curtains on the barrack windows and bedsprings on the beds. Walter is a 1st Class Petty Officer and all our minds are at ease when we know men of his calibre are still involved in the program.

Understand that Stanley Baldridge caught a 9 lb. catfish at Meredith recently and Patsy said it sure was good eating.

The George McCurrys had their granddaughter and daughter here from Fort Worth for a visit recently. Just like the ad says "Come Home"...

The James Keiths attended a family reunion in McLean over the weekend, and now Mrs. K. has her sister, Christine Dunnigan, here for a visit from Houston.

The Johnny Hicks spent Sunday at Sherwood Shores with Johnny and JoAnn Byrd from Canyon. All the kids on both families caught a fish — what fun!

A get well wish to Becky Baldridge who has the mumps.

A Happy Birthday to David Johnson and Mac McCurry. Also a Happy to the Burks' son, Walter.

Mrs. Bill "Ruth" Clark says that summer is officially here — saw her first snake — says it was the garden variety — but as far as I'm concerned it might as well be a King Cobra. By the bye, a special congratulations to Bill Clark. He recently received his 25-year pin for service as a brick mason. This was presented at a dinner-banquet of the Local No. 19 Brickmason Union. Man, I'll bet he's stacked lots and lots of bricks on top of each other over that 25-year period — Congratulations, Bill. Also, Bill's brother-in-law, M.E. Hopkins has been visiting the Clarks and we send a bit of cheer to Mr. Hopkins who is on leave from the V. A. Hospital in Albuquerque. Hope your stay in Amarillo-Canyon is a pleasant one.

A "Happy" to me little daddy, Leo A. Elliott, who gets this epistle down in big Quannah, Texas. By the by, the Elliotts were up this last weekend and paid my family a nice visit.

Ya'll phone me your news — it don't matter if it's a few days old — as a matter of fact — anything over a week old — we generally state, "recently." That's getting lots of mileage out of news.

Borrowed: "My friend Jim was a typical first-time father. Not long after his son was born, he ran into an acquaintance in a restaurant and, over coffee, filled him in on all the statistics. 'He's 21 days old today,' he concluded. 'Why, that's very nice,' replied the patient listener. 'Nice?' said Jim. 'For a three-week-old boy, that's darn good!'" pmh

City Officials Named

Tanglewood Is Village

Town marshal and the mayor shook hands on the city street and deliberated on the future of their new village — Tanglewood, Texas.

Some 124 residents of Lake Tanglewood voted Tuesday to incorporate and name a mayor, five aldermen and a town marshal to direct the village.

All but about 12 of the registered voters in the development turned out for the election.

James A. "Doc" Potts was elected mayor polling 70 votes. Murray Gray and Leo Forrest also ran receiving 33 and 21 votes respectively.

Aldermen were Bob Gray, 101; Dr. Newton Robinson, 94; Jess Pearce, 77; Sam Maraduke, 70; and E. M. Blackburn, 68. They were elected from a field of 10 candidates.

John Currie was overwhelmingly elected town marshal with 118 votes against Gene Klein Jr., with four votes.

Frank D. Smith was presiding judge.

Incorporation of the village will allow aldermen to pass and enforce ordinances for the village. They will not have the power to tax.

J.L. "Jim" Fletcher, Randall County Commissioner

Light Agenda Is Expected

City Manager George Louder expects a light agenda for the regular City Commission meeting to night in the Canyon Community Center.

Louder said Commissioners will consider an ordinance regulating mobile home parks within the city, but he expected no action to be taken. And he said further discussion will be held on the flood plain report concerning insurance rates and necessary city regulations to qualify for the flood insurance.

"We want to have building restrictions on the homes constructed here just as Canyon and Amarillo have in their cities," Fletcher explained.

Children Begin Summer Program

BY TROY MARTIN
Almost 300 Canyon elementary school children will begin a summer enrichment program Monday at Rex Reeves and Gene Howe Schools.

Oscar Hinger, principal at Rex Reeves, said 28 teachers and assistants will be involved in the program which will include such areas as corrective reading, mathematics, life science, communications, library enrichment and physical education.

School Superintendent Jerry Jacobs told school trustees Tuesday night that the summer program will be operated on a $17,000 budget all but $1,200 of which will come from federal and state sources.

Jacobs explained that local expense will include such items as custodial service, utilities and field trips.

Bryce Slack is administrator of the summer program.

"We have 290 children enrolled and we could double that figure," Hinger declared. "We have a waiting list."

"It is lending us a new concept of summer school," the Rex Reeves principal went on. He noted that the program combines summer education with summer recreation.

Students for the summer program come by teacher referral.

"We want this to be a program where children feel success," Slack declared. He explained that the program is geared to students with a learning lag. "It is not open to all children," he said.

The program runs for five weeks and Slack said that if attendance comes to 95 percent of enrollment he will feel that the program is successful.

Mrs. J. D. Strickland director of language and/or learning disability pilot schools in the state.

"Our goal is to correct or improve and to make learning fun," Mrs. Strickland told the school board. "We want to change the attitude of the student toward himself and school."

Luther Lawless, principal at Gene Howe, said the same program will be followed at his school as at Rex Reeves. He said about 60 youngsters will participate at Gene Howe.

Mrs. A. B. Holt is helping with curriculum for the summer program.

Community Is Built On Folks Like George Stevens

BY MARGO CRABTREE

Who are the people who mold and direct a community?

A town's mayor, or the commissioners or a school board member — certainly these people make a contribution, but a community is what its everyday citizen is.

A city is built on the guy who helps with the Boy Scouts, and spends 15 to 20 hours each week with the baseball programs, or quietly supports projects throughout the community.

He may not be the president of an organization, or the fella who gets his name before the public often, but he is one making a lasting contribution.

And Canyon's community builder is George Stevens. In George's own words, "I'm just a little guy doing his work."

And his work includes those long hours umpiring or coaching Babe Ruth and Little League games. He is the one who sees that the games will be played by having officials there, ready to call. And generally this means he is the one behind the mound or eyeing the bases from the field.

He doesn't seek recognition, in fact, he's embarrassed about it when any falls his way. He is simply doing what he believes is his community responsibility: helping kids.

George was born in Bomarton Nov. 22, 1925 and was picking and hoeing cotton when he was 7. His mother had the awesome task of raising him and an older sister by herself, and George knew he had to help.

By the time he was 12 he was shining shoes and sacking groceries to earn extra money. He recalls that from that time on he lived at home but he earned his own money. And it was a valuable lesson.

"Today kiddos have to decide if they want to work or be a part of the summer baseball program," George declared. "I'm all for work and believe boys should work. It's too bad they can't do both but often they can't."

His mother taught school after receiving her degree from West Texas State and they travelled from Canyon to Lipscomb County to Farwell and back to Amarillo before George joined the Navy in 1943.

He recalls seeing action in the South Pacific as a radio man, and has vivid memories of the invasion of the Philippines in late October of 1944.

"We were over being scared by that time," he explained. "We realized we couldn't dig a hole in a steel deck."

He celebrated his 20th birthday in Pearl Harbor on his way to San Francisco — and to his wedding.

He had met his future bride before he left for World War II action, and somewhere along the line he picked up an engagement ring. So he was ready for 30 days leave and a ceremony.

Shirley Thurmond and George Stevens were married January 6, 1946 in Amarillo, and a month later George returned to California by himself to complete his service.

Three months later he was packed and ready for discharge (only 12 hours away) when he dropped a battery on his foot, breaking three bones and delaying a reunion with his wife another two months.

"I remember calling her, and we both were so disappointed I'm not certain what we even said to one another," he recalled.

But back home in late June, George settled into civilian life working first for Santa Fe and then National Life.

He moved to Canyon in 1948 and began college, graduating in 1951 with a BS degree in elementary education. "I planned to teach," he remembers, "but a month after graduation I was called back into the service for the Korean conflict."

Bitterness and anger were the outstanding emotions George remembers about his recall into the service. But after 14 months in Korea he had made up his mind about teaching — it was not for him.

"I decided to stay in Canyon, I was tired of moving around," he stated. So he opened up the National Life Insurance office in Canyon, worked for Sears for a year, and then worked with Bill Money in the tax assessor-collector office for a year.

He applied for a civil service exam, and in July 1955 he became a carrier for the Canyon Post Office.

This year will complete his 16th year with the government, five of those years as a carrier, and today he is senior clerk at the local office.

George has four sons, 24 years to 14 years of age. They all have been active in the Little League, Babe Ruth League, Boy Scouts and the First Baptist Church.

And George and Shirley have dedicated their time to being with their sons during these activities.

The family is crowded in a house on 11th Avenue, but it is home for the six Stevens.

George explains that Ronnie, the oldest, sleeps in the garage-made a bedroom, Wilkes in the living room, and Philip and Wallace divide the large bedroom.

"I've never had extra money just to blow," George comments, "but our family is rich in heart."

What has life held for this man who has done more than his share for his community?

He gets emotional about that aspect of his life, and tears are evident in his eyes as he thinks of what his life is and should be.

"I just hope I have done all I can do for these boys," he says as he thinks back on the hundreds of youngsters he has helped coach or direct since the Little League program began in 1957.

"I was in the stands at that first game," he remembers. "And my feet didn't hit the ground until they were behind the mound when Clark Jarnagan and Bud Walker picked me up and told me to holler 'Play Ball'."

"I'd never umpired a game, and I didn't have any idea what to do, but I figured I wanted to do the best I could."

He made it through the game — barely... calling only one play that he still isn't sure about. And that night he read the rule book from front to back.

That rule book has been searched through several times since that evening in 1957. In fact, George has gone through several books, whipping his trusty guide from his back pocket many times to point out a rule to a coach or another umpire or an angry parent.

"They don't know the rules as well as they should," George says about those involved directly or indirectly with the program.

George has only one more year after this one to have a boy in the baseball program, and his plans are indefinite. To stay with the program or to let someone else take it on, these are the questions he ponders.

Meanwhile, he attends the Babe Ruth games, with his umpire gear under his arm, or a statistics book in his hand. And the following morning he makes his way to The Canyon News office with team results and standings.

"Someone needs to do it," is his answer to 'Why?'

The dedicated worker has strong feelings about the baseball program in Canyon. He believes that the "winning spirit" cannot be taken away from the ballgame, or the importance of the game will be lost.

"Baseball teaches them to be sportsmen and gentlemen, and they must learn the importance of playing to win," he explained.

George admitted he has been criticized for his stand, but he challenges parents and interested persons to come help.

"There is plenty of room for help in the program," he urged. "So if they don't like the way the program is conducted they are welcome to come and help."

His strongest belief is in the future of our kids.

"Our kiddos aren't bad," he stressed. "But most adults don't want to sit at a table and talk with the youngsters."

He urges parents to be interested in the boys, not to just take the boys to the ball park and leave them.

"In all my years with the program, I have only kicked one boy out of a game," he recalls.

And he thinks that our children are not being taught the importance of the American flag, and the National Anthem and our United States.

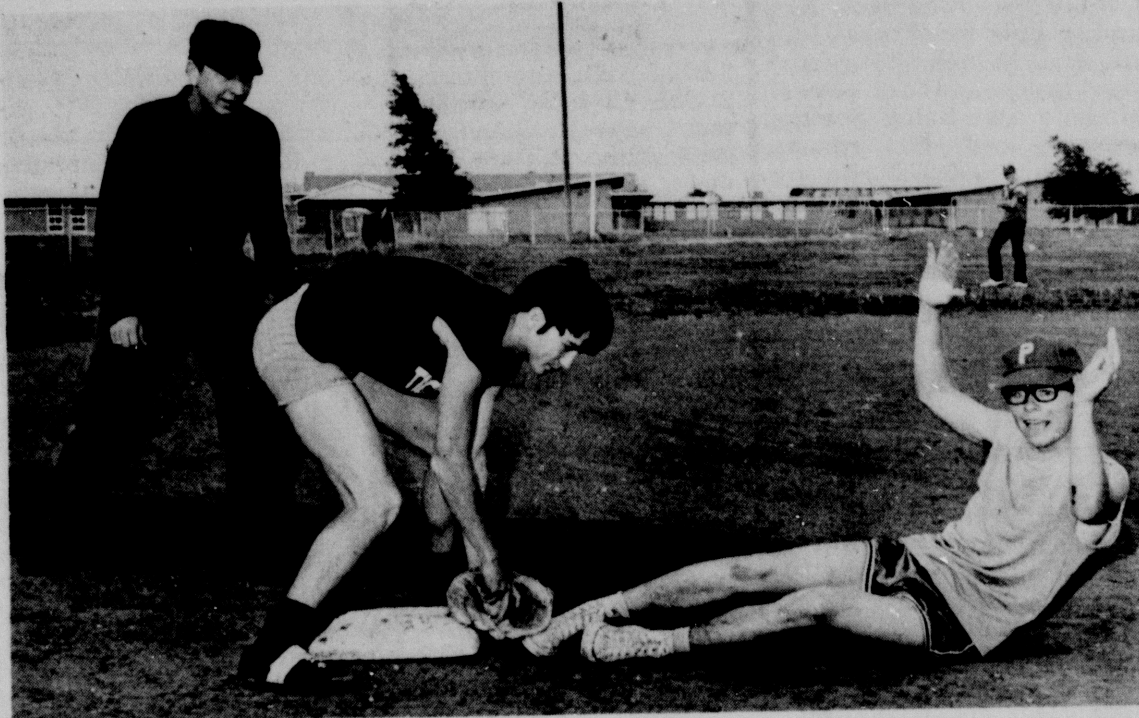

"This nation will survive for awhile," he predicts. "But the communists are working hard like termites in wood to destroy us from within."

And George believes part of the answer may lie with the Little League and Babe Ruth League ball programs.

"Kids without anything to do are going to get into trouble," he suggests. "And the ball games give them something good to do with their time."

Sandwiched between ball games, George finds time for his VFW work, where he is a past commander, the Canyon Evening Lions Club, which is its president; First Baptist Church, and football and basketball games at West Texas State University, where he serves as statistician.

Canyon, like most communities, is lots of George Stevens doing their community work with no pay, very little recognition and even less thanks.

Doug Day slides into third as Gary Bednorz tries for the out with George Stevens, umpire, watching closely to make the call. George has been active in the Little League and Babe Ruth League since they began in Canyon.

Injuries Minor In Accident

Mrs. Jimmy Boatwright of Canyon received minor injuries Tuesday when a pickup she had been driving rolled over her at 23rd Street and Fifth Avenue.

Canyon Patrolman Robert Seals said Mrs. Boatwright, 20, had left the pickup idling in park gear and apparently the gear slipped into reverse. Mrs. Boatwright attempted to get back into the vehicle but was knocked down and the pickup rolled over her and then rolled into 23rd Street.

Jim Gupton, an employee of Griffin Truck Stop, quickly jumped into the pickup bringing it to a stop.

Mrs. Boatwright was taken to Nebbett Hospital by LaGrone ambulance and was treated and released.

She was alone in the vehicle at the time of the accident.

Mrs. Elliott Succumbs, Rites Today

Funeral services for Mrs. Celeste T. Elliott, 89, will be conducted at 4 p.m. Thursday in the First Methodist Church of Happy with Rev. Oland Butler, immediate past pastor of the church, officiating.

Burial will follow in the Happy Cemetery under the direction of LaGrone Funeral Chapel.

Mrs. Elliott died Wednesday morning in LaCasa Canyon Nursing Home, where she had been a resident for about two months.

She was born January 14, 1882 in Mt. Olive, Kentucky. She married Stanton Grant Elliott in Jellico, Tennessee March 5, 1900. Mr. Elliott died December 7, 1941.

Mrs. Elliott had resided in Happy for about three years after moving from Glendale, Arizona. She was a member of the First Christian Church in Glendale.

Survivors include a son Simon Elliott of Happy; a daughter Mrs. Joyce Wheat of Happy; and a step-daughter Mrs. Bertha Wells of Liberty, Kentucky.

$654,034 was recorded. Permits in 1966 were $80,000, and '67 figures showed $145,450. Permits slumped some in 1968 to $79,220 and the next two years decreased even more. The increase this year was believed to be a healthy sign toward construction, according to Louder.

Even though the April permits were higher this year than in the past two years, records show that in 1968 permits totalling $200,754 were issued. In 1966 $372,775 appeared on the city books in permits.

Canyon Study Club has selected a community projects committee, interested in "stimulating public interest in the park and in taking care of the park," said Mrs. Bob Kitchens, chairmen.

Other members of the committee are Mmes. Charles Brasher, Bill Pratt, Ronald Taylor and Weyman Brown.

being made on the spending," Martin went on.

McClure refused to say who ordered him not to discuss the appropriation. Apparently the order was given some time between early afternoon when the Whittenburg paper went to press and 4:30 p.m. when the museum director was contacted by The News.

"I would have thought Mr. McClure would have been in an exceptionally good mood over receiving $133,600 when he had only asked for $114,000," Martin said. McClure was anything but happy.

"You can make the most of it," he declared as he hung up on the reporter who had called him.

He married Tom Beck Cook January 26, 1918 in Canyon. His son Clarence Eugene Thompson recalled that Mr. Thompson's interest centered in mechanical and engineering fields. And these interests were fulfilled in the ownership of the farm implement business which the family owned in the early 1930's.

Other businesses the family owned and operated included Canyon's first funeral home, the first major appliance dealership, and the city's hardware store.

Mr. Thompson remained a licensed funeral director through the years, although he did not actively pursue an additional year before receiving a diploma.

Kunsa admits that slavery has been practiced in Ethiopia in this century. Actually, Haile Selassie decreed abolition of slavery May 18, 1935.

Kunsa sees race relations in this country as very bad. "We see your police on television using dogs and fire hoses," he declared.

He also sees hope in the younger generations declaring that the young in America have common problems which will tend to bring them together.

He also sees the U.S. as the aggressor in Vietnam. Ethiopia is an ancient country. It was old when Homer composed the Iliad and the Odyssey.

Kunsa says Emperor Haile Selassie is 225th in direct line of descent of Solomon and the Queen of Sheba.

He tells a charming story of how the virgin queen visited Solomon and was tricked and seduced by the all-wise king of Israel.

Fruit of that union was King Menelek I, he said, and thus today Haile Selassie bears the title, "King of Kings of Ethiopia, the Conquering Lion of Judah and the Elect of God."

carrying as heavy a teaching load as they should.

"There has been a lot of talk among the legislators about how colleges operate," Henson went on. He said the solons are concerned about agitation among faculty and students.

"I think it is a bad bill but we will just have to live with it," he declared.

Henson said he will spend the next two weeks rearranging projected expenditures in order to pare the budget to live within expected income and appropriation.

"It is not going to be easy," he said.

Henson said the state appropriation came to $6,144,094 including $243,000 for renovation of the science building. An anticipated $48,000 for converting the old swimming pool to usable space was not forthcoming.

Senator Max Sherman was credited with obtaining the money for renovation of the science building.

Museum...

tional all these years," Hazlewood was quoted as having said. "The state has been appropriating money all these years for a private corporation or institution over which it had no control."

"The Legislative Council research found the only semblance of a precedent was under an old contract signed by the board of regents, the governor, the attorney general and the chairman of the board of control. This was a unilateral contract without statutory authority."

A statement protesting the act was signed by Robert Carr Vincent, Boise City, Okla.; H. Y. Overstreet, Farwell; Fred Hobart, Pampa; Frank Shaller, Canadian; and J. Evetts Haley, Canyon.

The statement referred to Hazlewood as a political "has-been" who didn't join the historical society until he was proposed for society president by Museum Director C. Boone McClure.

The bill was introduced into the Senate by Bill Moore of Bryan and labeled as Senate Bill 1021. It was carried in the House by Bill Healy of Paducah and Ralph Wayne of Plainview.

It provides for auditing of state money by the state auditor and that any expenditures of state funds be administered by the board of regents. He also may audit society funds spent jointly with state funds.

West Texas State University financial vice president Virgil Henson said the new law actually will make few changes in how the museum is operated.

"It really doesn't change anything," Henson declared. He said the board of directors has always made recommendations to the regents and the board has carried them out.

"We expect no change in this procedure," Henson went on. "It just puts down in writing what we've been doing for a long time. The state auditor has always had a right to audit any books over there because the money was spent on state property."

Lindseys...

was sorry for his misdeeds and that he had learned his lesson. He said he enticed his wife into the bank robbery and burglary spree that climaxed in their arrest in Hamlin in December.

Lindsey is 30 years old and his wife is 27. The Lindseys have four small children.

Lindsey worked as a policeman in Tulsa for a year. Two masked bandits took $2,500 at gunpoint October 8 from Happy First State Bank.

Memorials may be given to Dreamland Cemetery or a favorite charity. Survivors include two sons Clarence Eugene Thompson of Canyon and Thomas H. Thompson of Rumson, New Jersey; one sister Mrs. George Farlow of Midland; and six grandchildren.

Henson said first museum appropriation was made for 1936 by the 1935 Legislature. Provisions of the act may remove both Haley and Hazlewood from the affairs of the museum.

It states: "A historical society or group incorporated as a nonprofit organization may not house an exhibit or collection in a state-owned museum building located on a campus referred to in this act if the owner or donor of the exhibit or collection serves as an officer or director of the nonprofit, private corporation on in any position in the corporation, administrative or executive which determines management or supervision of the corporation."

Both Haley and Hazlewood are benefactors of the museum. The bill further stipulates that a historical society may not house a collection in a state-owned museum building located on a campus if a member of the governing group elected by the board of directors of the nonprofit corporation to administer the affairs of the corporation is elected to succeed himself after serving two consecutive one-year terms.

The act provides that no employee who is paid in whole or in part by state funds may be employed or discharged except with consent of the board of regents. Statement of the former presidents of the society follows in full:

"SENATE BILL 1021, maneuvered quietly through the legislature and personally carried to the Governor by Senator Grady Hazlewood, is designed to destroy the control of the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum by its membership. It will turn the Museum over completely to the State. It is vindictive in purpose and vicious and destructive in intent."

"It is the malicious expression of a political 'has-been' who, while representing this Senatorial District for years, was never even interested enough to become a $5 paying member until he was proposed by the Museum Director as the Society's president. "It is an example of the underhanded power politics, pursued in collusion with certain big money interests, that want to control the Museum while at the best giving it beggarly benefits in the past. It is backed by the same forces that recently took over the Society and the Museum with proxies solicited from members, most of whom were completely innocent as to the underhanded purposes of those who sought them."

"This Bill, if signed into law, will invalidate — at Hazlewood's whim and caprice — the unique contract under which the Historical Society has operated in close and harmonious cooperation with the State for 39 years. Under this contract the Society was successful in building the Museum at Canyon into one of the nation's best, and in making its collections second to none in its field."

"As law it will not only destroy the influence, the authority and the effectiveness of the Society, but will violate the contract the Governor, the board of Regents, and the Chairman of the State Board of Control signed with the governing officers of the Society in 1932, which guaranteed the Museum's fantastic growth, and kept it dedicated to the purpose of the founders in preserving the history, ideals and culture of the pioneers."

"The Society will not only be destroyed but the Museum will become a political plaything, of which its use as a convenient vehicle for tax purposes by Senator Hazlewood and his political cohorts by taking big deductions for papers of questionable value is but a forerunner of what can be expected."

"If the State can invalidate a contract at the whim of a vindictive politician, with a great educational institution like the Panhandle Plains Historical Society Museum, then there is no limit to its perfidy."

"Governor Preston Smith would render the Society, the Museum, and the State a distinct service by vetoing this malicious Act, which Hazlewood himself has described as "a little personal bill."

Students enrolling for the first summer term at West Texas State University totaled 2,808 when regular registration ended Monday, said Dr. Donald Cates, dean of admissions and registrar.

The total is 63 above the 2,744 enrollment figure recorded for regular registration for the first summer term in 1970.

Late registration will continue until noon Saturday and the total is expected to rise. Last year's total after late registration was 2,956.

Classes began Tuesday and will continue through July 8. Registration for the second term is set for July 12.

Larry Dirks Marries Miss Brown

Miss Barbara Brown and Larry Douglas Dirks exchanged double ring vows recently in the First Presbyterian Church of Amarillo. The Rev. Lael Smith of Westminster Presbyterian Church officiated.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Carroll E. Brown of Amarillo. She attended West Texas State University.

Dirks is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dirks of Canyon. He is a 1968 graduate of Canyon High School, attended WTSU and has served a tour of duty with the U.S. Army in Vietnam. He is a student pilot in Fort Worth.

Miss Nancy Lee was maid of honor.

The bride wore an empire gown of gold satin and beige taffeta with long sleeves accented with a peter pan collar. She carried a cascade of gold and yellow daisies with gold hanging ribbons.

Ted Walker of Canyon was best man.

Ricky Brown seated guests.

The church was decorated with daisies of gold, yellow and white, with candles. Flower girl was Jamie Dirks of Canyon.

A reception honored the couple following the ceremony. They plan to make their home in Fort Worth.

Mrs. Thomas Stone

Couple Recites Vows In Arizona Church

Miss D'Lynne Bellah and Thomas William Stone were married at 2 p.m. Saturday in First Southern Baptist Church in Glendale, Ariz.
